CSMA Students & Faculty Exhibit Artwork at Mountain View City Hall, February 1-28

MOUNTAIN VIEW, CA – The Community School of Music and Arts (CSMA) and the City of Mountain View present A Line Runs Through It! – a collaborative exhibition created by faculty and students in CSMA's Art4Schools program in local elementary and middle schools. The exhibit is free and open to the public from February 1-28 at the City Hall Rotunda, located at 500 Castro Street in Mountain View. City Hall is open Monday–Friday from 8am-5pm. There will be an opening reception with students and faculty on Friday, February 3 from 3-6pm. The Huff School Honor Choir, led by CSMA music teacher Christina Christiansen, will perform at 4pm. The show is generously sponsored by the City of Mountain View, which lends its beautiful rotunda space to this exhibition annually.

On display will be approximately 600 pieces of art by students (grades K-8) and their art teachers from over 30 local schools, including every elementary school in the Mountain View Whisman School District (Bubb, Castro, Huff, Landels, Mistral, Monta Loma, Stevenson, Theuerkauf). Additional schools are Lyndale School (Alum Rock School District); Dilworth School, Montclair School, Stevens Creek School and Murdock-Portal School (Cupertino Union School District); Westlake School and Woodrow Wilson School (Jefferson Elementary School District); Santa Rita School and Springer School (Los Altos School District); St. Nicholas School (Los Altos Hills); The Academy, Anderson School, Baldwin School, Christopher School, Del Roble School, Edenvale School, Ledesma School, Miner School and Stipe School (Oak Grove School District); John Gill School, Roosevelt School and Roy Cloud School (Redwood City School District); Baywood School (San Mateo-Foster City School District); Sierra School and Resurrection School (Sunnyvale). Students receive weekly art instruction through CSMA's in-school art education program, Art4Schools.

Both students and their art teachers created pieces inspired by the theme: A Line Runs Through It! Teachers developed classroom lessons to support this concept and encouraged students to experiment with different forms of media including ink, pastel, paint, clay, wire, metal, and fabric. The artwork shows the teachers' and students' unique interpretations of the exhibition's theme.

"A Line Runs Through It! explores the many different creative and conceptual interpretations of a line's potential through painting, drawing, sculpture, poetry, and mixed media," said Heidi Lubin, CSMA's

Art4Schools Program Manager. "The Art4Schools curriculum begins each year with lessons that encourage our students to explore how lines create visual texture, pattern and form as well as symbolism, expression and perspective. As the students demonstrated through their artistic responses to the theme, lines can be found everywhere such as on the bark of a tree, in a stanza of a poem, throughout the architecture of our cities and bridges and in the weave of a textile."

CSMA's in-school visual art and music programs (Art4Schools and Music4Schools) serve over 16,000 students at 45 schools in Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties. Taught by professionally-trained CSMA art and music faculty as part of the school day, these programs provide quality arts and music education to Grades K-8 students through in-depth, sequential curricula that meet California State Educational Standards. CSMA's award-winning in-school Art4Schools curriculum develops hands-on technical skills as well as an appreciation and cultural understanding of art and its history. Art lessons coordinate with students' classroom activities to become an integral, enriching part of each child's education.
